THE ASCENSION OF THE LORD

There are a lot of religious writings in the world. Most traditions have what adherents consider their sacred texts. Jews have the Torah and the rest of the Hebrew Bible. Christians have the Old and New Testaments. Muslims hold on to the Quran as their sacred text, while Mormons turn to the Book of Mormon. Sikhs, Hindus, Buddhists all turn to writings of their own faith to inspire and guide them.

The verses we read this weekend are the last lines of St. Luke's Gospel. While they form the end of the Gospel, the passage is only the conclusion of the first part of Luke's larger narrative, a story that is continued in the Acts of the Apostles. Luke told us that he was going to "compile a narrative of the events that have been fulfilled" (Lk 1:1). As he brings his Gospel to a close, he comes back to that very theme. Jesus tells his disciples before he ascends that the events that took place (that is, his suffering, death, and rising on the third day) were written about and fulfilled. Luke and the other early Christians used the texts that they were familiar with-the prophets, the Psalms, and the rest of Hebrew Bible-and found in these writings ways to make sense of what had happened to them and their experience of the risen Christ.

We see this process at work in today's Gospel. Luke's narrative was strung together to lead Jesus on a journey to Jerusalem where he would suffer, die, and rise on the third day. Now, as today's Gospel indicates, Jerusalem is the starting point from which all the nations will hear the word of God, the very things to which the final chapters of the prophet Isaiah allude. The challenge for us, as believers who live two thousand years after these words have been written, is to consider what they mean in our lives today. How are we witnesses to this truth?

THANK YOU!

The Sisters want to thank everyone for supporting their cause. With your generosity, they were able to collect $1,131.50 from the small cartons. They will use the money for the poor migrant families. Thank you and God Bless.

Jesus promised his disciples that they would be clothed in power from God. As a follower of Jesus, you are also given that same promise. Pray for the grace to be a faithful witness. Luke 24:46-53

LA ASCENSIÓN DEL SEÑOR

En esta fiesta de la Ascensión del Señor y al final de la narración del Evangelio de Lucas, se nos dice que los discípulos regresaron a Jerusalén llenos de gozo, alabando y cantando gloria al Señor. ¡Qué gran gozo! ¡Existía una nueva razón para celebrar la presencia de Dios entre ellos! Esto es una gran lección para todos nosotros, pues debemos de tener claro que los católicos somos "universales". Así nos lo demuestra la Constitución Dogmática Lumen Gentium del Concilio Vaticano II (número 13): "Así, pues, el único Pueblo de Dios está presente en todas las razas de la tierra, pues de todas ellas reúne sus ciudadanos, y éstos lo son de un reino no terrestre, sino celestial...bajo Cristo Cabeza, en la unidad de su Espíritu".

El Misterio Pascual es el gran misterio de nuestra fe y por el cual profesamos lo que creemos: que Cristo Jesús sufrió, murió y resucitó por nosotros. Reflexionemos en la siguiente pregunta: ¿Qué hacemos en nuestra vida de creyentes para demostrar que creemos en Jesús? Debemos de darnos cuenta de que cada Pascua es una oportunidad nueva para crecer y aumentar nuestra fe. Y tenemos una tarea más: ser reconciliadores del perdón y la paz entre las gentes. O sea, ser testigos de esperanza. Esta fiesta nos transforma el dolor en gozo. Por lo tanto, el miedo ya no debe existir en nuestros corazones. Jesús nos envía al Espíritu Santo: esa fue su promesa. El reto ahora es que en cada Eucaristía y acción en nuestra vida, también nosotros veamos hacia el cielo tratando de tener una visión de lo que Jesús nos ha dicho de cómo ser Iglesia.
