But from the beginning of creation, God made them male and female ...” In today’s Gospel, Jesus sheds light on the nature of Christian marriage. The Pharisees were trying to trick him, but Jesus transformed their plot into a teachable moment. Speaking of the Mosaic law that allowed a man to divorce his wife, Jesus indicated that this man-made law was not the standard by which marriage should be understood. Instead, he referred back to “the beginning of creation.” In the story of Adam and Eve, we see the first human couple living in a state of perfect harmony and bliss with each other and with God. As today’s Old Testament reading reveals, Adam was thrilled with Eve. “This one, at last, is bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh,” he declares with joy and relief. God’s original plan for marriage was part of the joyful paradise in Eden. But sin entered the world, and with it came a rupture in the pristine unity of the man and the woman. The tensions between husbands and wives have been problematic ever since. Thus Jesus explains divorce as the result of sin (i. e., “the hardness of your hearts”). But as always, Jesus calls us to transcend the slavery of sin. And more than that, he promises us his own divine help, his grace, and his Spirit to enable us to accomplish what we could not do on our own power. So when he replaces the Mosaic law with his commandment about marriage, “what God has joined together, no human being must separate”, he is calling us to a more beautiful understanding of marriage: one that is blessed by the true marital unity that can transcend the sadness of sin.

 responsable van de la mano del proyecto de Dios. Hombre y mujer son importantes en sus decisiones de pareja, sabiendo que su fundamento viene desde el principio de la creación: "No es bueno que el hombre esté solo. Voy a hacerle a alguien como él, para que lo ayude" (Gn 2, 18). Como ya nos dimos cuenta, el tema de las lecturas de hoy se basa en la visión cristiana del matrimonio. Por lo tanto, cabe que nos hagamos las siguientes preguntas. ¿Qué opinan los jóvenes y los jóvenes adultos del matrimonio? ¿Por qué temen al compromiso de formar un hogar? ¿Por qué sienten muchas parejas que viven juntos que la palabra "matrimonio" está pasada de moda? Las lecturas de este domingo nos ayudan a hacer un examen de conciencia colectivo. De igual manera, nos invitan a darnos cuenta de que tenemos responsabilidad sobre el proyecto de Dios acerca del matrimonio cristiano. No tiremos en saco roto estas enseñanzas de Jesús. Veamos la forma de apoyar a los matrimonios de nuestras comunidades parroquiales. Pidamos con fervor también por el éxito del sínodo mundial de las familias, principalmente por las familias que están separadas a causa de las leyes de inmigración. Confiemos que el ejemplo de la familia de Nazaret -la comunicación y el respeto mutuo— sea el motor para que Dios reine en el hogar. Nos dice que las palabras de Jesús de hace más de dos mil años no son en vano, sino que siguen vigentes: "De modo que ya no son dos, sino una sola cosa. Por eso, lo que Dios unió, que no lo separe el hombre" (Mc 10, 8-9). El compromiso y la paternidad responsable van de la mano del proyecto de Dios. Hombre y mujer son importantes en sus decisiones de pareja, sabiendo que su fundamento viene desde el principio de la creación: "No es bueno que el hombre esté solo. Voy a hacerle a alguien como él, para que lo ayude" (Gn 2, 18). Anda, vende todo lo que tienes, dalo a los pobres, y así tendrás un tesoro en el cielo. Después, ven y sígueme.
